Donations

Many members mark special occasions in their lives with special donations to the Swiss Benevolent Society of New York. They celebrate the birth of children and grandchildren with a gift in honor of the new baby, or remember the life of a family member or friend with a memorial donation.

These special donations are listed separately in our annual report, with the name of the person honored.

Other people do not want to become members, yet want to contribute financially to our work. Their gifts are also listed under "Donations."
